INFORMED CONSENT TO BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SERVICES

Behavioral Health services are based on a relationship between people that works partly because of clearly defined rights and responsibilities held by each person. You have a right to understand the evaluation and treatment procedure being used with you. It is important to be an informed and knowledgeable client and it is always appropriate to ask questions about your psychotherapist, his or her therapeutic approach, and your progress with the evaluation and/or treatment process. You are free to stop behavioral health services at any time.

It is often helpful to have a written copy of office policies that you may refer to at any time. This document contains important information about professional services and business policies. If you have any questions after reading this form, please feel free to discuss them before signing.

Approach to Counseling

Nueva Vida Behavioral Health Associates is a certified trauma informed agency. Trauma Informed Care acknowledges the need to understand a client's life experiences in order to deliver effective care and has the potential to improve client engagement, treatment adherence, better health outcomes as well as client and staff wellness. Operating as a trauma informed agency means making a commitment to following best practices, policies and ensuring a welcome and supportive environment.

Our approach to counseling varies somewhat with the needs of our clients. Primarily, we utilize a cognitive-behavioral approach based on the principles of self-monitoring and social learning. It is also important to appreciate an individual's developmental history, their family of origin, and their current self/other perceptions. Our style is interactive as we view the therapeutic relationship as a partnership between the client and therapist. Responsibility for change resides with the client with our role being that of information provision, insight reflection, and social support.

Confidentiality

Naturally, we will need to know a great deal about you. Except for the situations described below, you have the right to privacy during the counseling process. Everyone at our office involved in your care is aware of the importance of confidentiality. Nearly all issues discussed in the course of treatment are strictly confidential. We cannot share any information about our work together without your prior written permission, except in the circumstances outlined below. You may direct us to disclose information with whomever you choose, and you can change your mind and revoke that permission at any time.

You may ask anyone you wish to attend a therapy session with you, but let us know in advance so we can decide what information, if any, you want to be kept confidential during that session. If you are participating in couples or family therapy, please be aware that both you and other individuals in therapy with you are considered to be the "client." It is our policy to openly discuss and agree on how information you provide us individually will be managed. In most cases, we believe it is best to avoid secrets among participants.

It is important that you fully understand the limitations of confidentiality in order for you to make an informed decision regarding what you tell us. By law, we are required to disclose confidential information to the appropriate persons and/or agencies if any of the following conditions exist:

- We evaluate you to be a danger to yourself or others.
- You are a minor, elderly, or disabled and we believe you are the victim of abuse or if you divulge information about such abuse.
- You are involved in legal proceedings in which the court subpoenas your mental health records.
- You waive your rights to privilege or give consent to disclosure of information.
- You are being seen through a work injury referral and workers' compensation is getting billed for your sessions.

Client Name: _____

Client Chart ID: _____

Minors

If you are under 18 years of age, please be aware that the law may provide parents with the right to examine your behavioral health records. Because psychotherapy requires trust and privacy to work effectively, it will be important for the therapist, parent(s), and minor to agree on how information will be exchanged during the course of treatment. With adolescents, the clinical goal is typically to maximize privacy, with the exception of issues that compromise the physical safety of the minor. Parents/guardians will be provided with general information on how treatment is proceeding. Before giving parents/guardians any information, we will discuss the matter with the minor and will do my best to resolve any objections the minor may have about what we are prepared to discuss.

Record-keeping

According to the Texas Administrative Code Rules of Practice Title 22 Part 30 Chapter 681 Subchapter B Rule §681.53 5 (V). Prior to the commencement of counseling services to a minor client who is named in a custody agreement or court order, a licensee must obtain and review a current copy of the custody agreement or court order, as well as any applicable part of the divorce decree. A licensee must maintain these documents in the client's record and abide by the documents at all times. When federal or state statutes provide an exemption to secure consent of a parent or guardian prior to providing services to a minor, a licensee must follow the protocol set forth in such federal or state statutes.

We normally keep brief records, noting your participation and a brief discussion of what occurred during our session. You have a right to review your mental health record and to correct any errors in your file. You can request in writing that we send information to any other health care provider. Legally, raw testing data can only be sent to a licensed psychologist. We maintain your records in a secure location to protect your privacy.

Diagnosis

If a third party (i.e., insurance company) is paying for part of your bill, they may require a formal diagnosis as a condition of payment. Diagnoses are technical terms to describe the nature and severity of your problems. If we use a diagnosis, we will discuss this with you.

Insurance

Many insurance plans cover behavioral health services. In order to set realistic treatment goals and priorities, it is important to evaluate what resources are available to pay for your treatment. Generally, it is your responsibility to understand your insurance benefits and to file necessary paperwork for reimbursement. You, not your insurance company, are responsible for full payment of the fee to which we have agreed. Payment is due before or at the end of the session unless other arrangements have been made in advance. If this policy causes you undue hardship, please talk with me about other options. Please be sure to fill out insurance/insured information accurately on the office intake form. We will not be responsible for erroneous claims due to incomplete insurance information.

The escalation of health care costs has resulted in an increasing level of complexity about insurance benefits that sometimes makes it difficult to determine exactly how much mental health coverage is available. "Managed Health Care Plans" such as HMOs and PPOs often require advance authorization before they will provide reimbursement for mental health services. Such plans are often oriented toward short-term treatment approaches that are designed to resolve specific problems interfering with one's usual level of functioning. It may be necessary to seek additional approval after a certain number of sessions. In my experience, while quite a great deal can be accomplished in short-term therapy, many clients feel that more services are necessary after insurance benefits expire. Some managed care plans will not allow us to provide services to you once your benefits are no longer available. If this is the case, we can discuss alternate ways of receiving services, including finding another provider who will help you continue your care or paying for services privately.

Once we have all of the information about your insurance coverage, we will discuss what we can expect to accomplish with the benefits that are available and what will happen if the insurance benefits run out before you feel ready to end our sessions.

It is important to remember that you always have the right to pay for our services yourself and avoid the complexities that are described above.

Tele-mental health Services

For those clients who are being treated by telemental health: You hereby consent to engaging in distance counseling as part of your psychotherapy. You understand distance counseling includes the practice of health care delivery, diagnosis, consultation, treatment, transfer of medical data, and education using interactive audio, video and data communications. You understand that tele-mental health services also involves the communication of medical/mental information both orally and visually. You understand that you have the following rights with respect to distance counseling:

- There are risks and consequences from distance counseling, including, but not limited to, the possibility, despite reasonable efforts on the part of your psychotherapist, that: the transmission of your medical information could be disrupted or distorted by technical failures; the transmission of your medical information could be interrupted by unauthorized persons and/or the electronic storage of your medical information could be accessed by unauthorized persons. These risks are offset by my therapist's use of HIPPA-compliant service which is encrypted for video telemental health communications. Further, the contents of my therapist's computer are encrypted.

- If your psychotherapist believes you would be better served by another form of psychotherapeutic services (e.g. face-to-face services, group therapy), you may be referred to another psychotherapist who can provide such services.
- There is a risk that services could be disrupted or distorted by unforeseen technical problems
- There is a risk of being overheard by anyone near you if you are not in a private room alone.
- Due to the nature of the interaction, there may be quality differences that are experienced that would not occur in face-to-face interactions. Please let the staff of Nueva Vida or your treating clinician know if you find the quality of audio/visual interactions insufficient for your needs.

Client's Rights:

1. You have the right to request face-to-face psychological services instead of Tele-mental health services at any point in the treatment. This will not affect your right to further treatment.
2. You have the right to withdraw your consent to the use of Tele-mental health services at any time during the course of your care. This will not affect your right to further treatment.
3. You have the right to inquire about the security and confidentiality of the audio/visual interactions at any time during your treatment.

Technology

It is the utmost importance to us that we maintain confidentiality, respect your boundaries, and ascertain that your relationship with your therapist remains therapeutic and professional. Therefore, we have developed the following policies: (If this is a problem, please feel free to discuss this with your therapist.)

- Cell Phones: It is important for you to know that cell phones may not be completely secure and confidential. However, we realize that most people have and utilize a cell phone. Your counselor may also use a cell phone to contact you.
- Text Messaging and Email: Both text messaging and emailing are not secure means of communication and may compromise your confidentiality. However, we realize that many people prefer to text and/or email because it is a quick way to convey information.
- We are required to keep a copy of all emails and texts as part of your clinical record. If you find the need to communicate frequently with your counselor between sessions, it may be that you need to schedule more frequent visits.

Safety Monitoring

NVBHA at the Tioga location uses security video cameras in its common areas. Cameras are located outside the building, monitoring both entrances, the parking lot, and the playground. One camera is located in the waiting room, and another is in the reception area.

Worker's Compensation

For those clients who are being treated under Worker's Compensation benefits, we will bill the Insurance carrier for services. Please also be aware that your mental health records will be forwarded to the insurance company as documentation of the services provided before we can be reimbursed. Your records may also be forwarded to your primary physician. Any other requests for your records must be accompanied by a properly executed Release of Information, which is available in this office.

Emergencies and Phone Calls

NVBHA can be reached by phone (210-616-0828) from 8:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. Monday through Friday, Saturday 8:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M., and Sunday by appointment. We ask that you seek help immediately from your physician or a hospital emergency room if you have an emergency. IF YOU ARE UNABLE TO MAKE IT TO THE HOSPITAL, CALL 911. University Hospital (210-358-2524), 4502 Medical Drive in San Antonio, has psychiatric care available in the emergency room at all times, as do most other community hospitals.

Ethics and Professional Standards

As licensed professional counselors, licensed marriage and family therapists, social workers, psychologists, and psychiatric nurse practitioners are regulated by the Texas Behavioral Health Executive Council. The number for the Texas Behavioral Health Executive Council is 512-305-7700. If you have any concerns about the course of evaluation or treatment, please discuss them with me. We look forward to working with you.
